Welcome

Thank you for your interest in joining Sadler's Wells. We hope also that it will be a great opportunity for you in your own career.

Sadler's Wells holds fast today to the vision that Lilian Baylis instilled here almost a century ago: that great art should belong to everybody. Our mission is to make and create dance that inspires us all, and our vision is to create, through dance, a depth of connection beyond borders, cultures and languages, so we see ourselves in each other.

When artists and audiences talk about Sadler's Wells, they use the words: 'innovative, exciting and risk-taking'. Trying new things is part of our core purpose, and it's more important today than it has ever been.

This is an exciting and complex time in the theatre's history as we recover from the impact the coronavirus pandemic has had on our business model and work towards opening a fourth venue in Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park in east London in 2023.

This role will offer you the opportunity to bring your ideas, passion, knowledge and experience to Sadler's Wells. In return, the successful candidate will be part of a strong and supportive team in a world class arts organisation.

Background Information

Sadler's Wells is a world-leading creative organisation, dedicated to presenting, producing and touring dance made today in all its forms. Sadler's Wells commissions, presents and produces more dance than any other theatre in the world – from tango to hip hop, ballet to flamenco, Bollywood to cutting-edge contemporary dance. With an innovative, year-round programme of performances and learning activities, this is the place where artists come together to create dance, and where we welcome everyone to experience dance and be inspired.

Our aim is to reflect and respond to the world through dance: enabling artists of all backgrounds to create dance that moves us and opens our minds; sharing those experiences with the widest possible audiences to enrich our lives and deepen our understanding of what it means to be human.

In normal times, over half a million people come to our theatres in London each year, with many more enjoying our touring productions at partner venues across the UK and in cities around the world. Sadler's Wells Theatre has been located in Islington since the 17th century. Our modern-day theatre comprises a main auditorium (1,500 seats); the Lilian Baylis Studio (180 seats); three rehearsal studios; bars, a café, facilities for private and corporate entertaining and offices for Sadler's Wells' colleagues.

Our second theatre building and West End home, the Peacock Theatre (1,000 seats), is subject to a unique agreement whereby Sadler's Wells and the London School of Economics jointly manage it, with the LSE presenting its lectures to students during the day and Sadler's Wells presenting theatre at night.

Future Plans

Plans are underway for the development of a fourth venue in east London's Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park. Sadler's Wells' new space will be located on the Stratford Waterfront site, opposite the London Aquatics Centre, alongside UAL's London College of Fashion and the V&A Museum. The site will form part of a new cultural and education district, which will also include a major new University College London (UCL) campus and have direct links to the creative communities already based in east London.

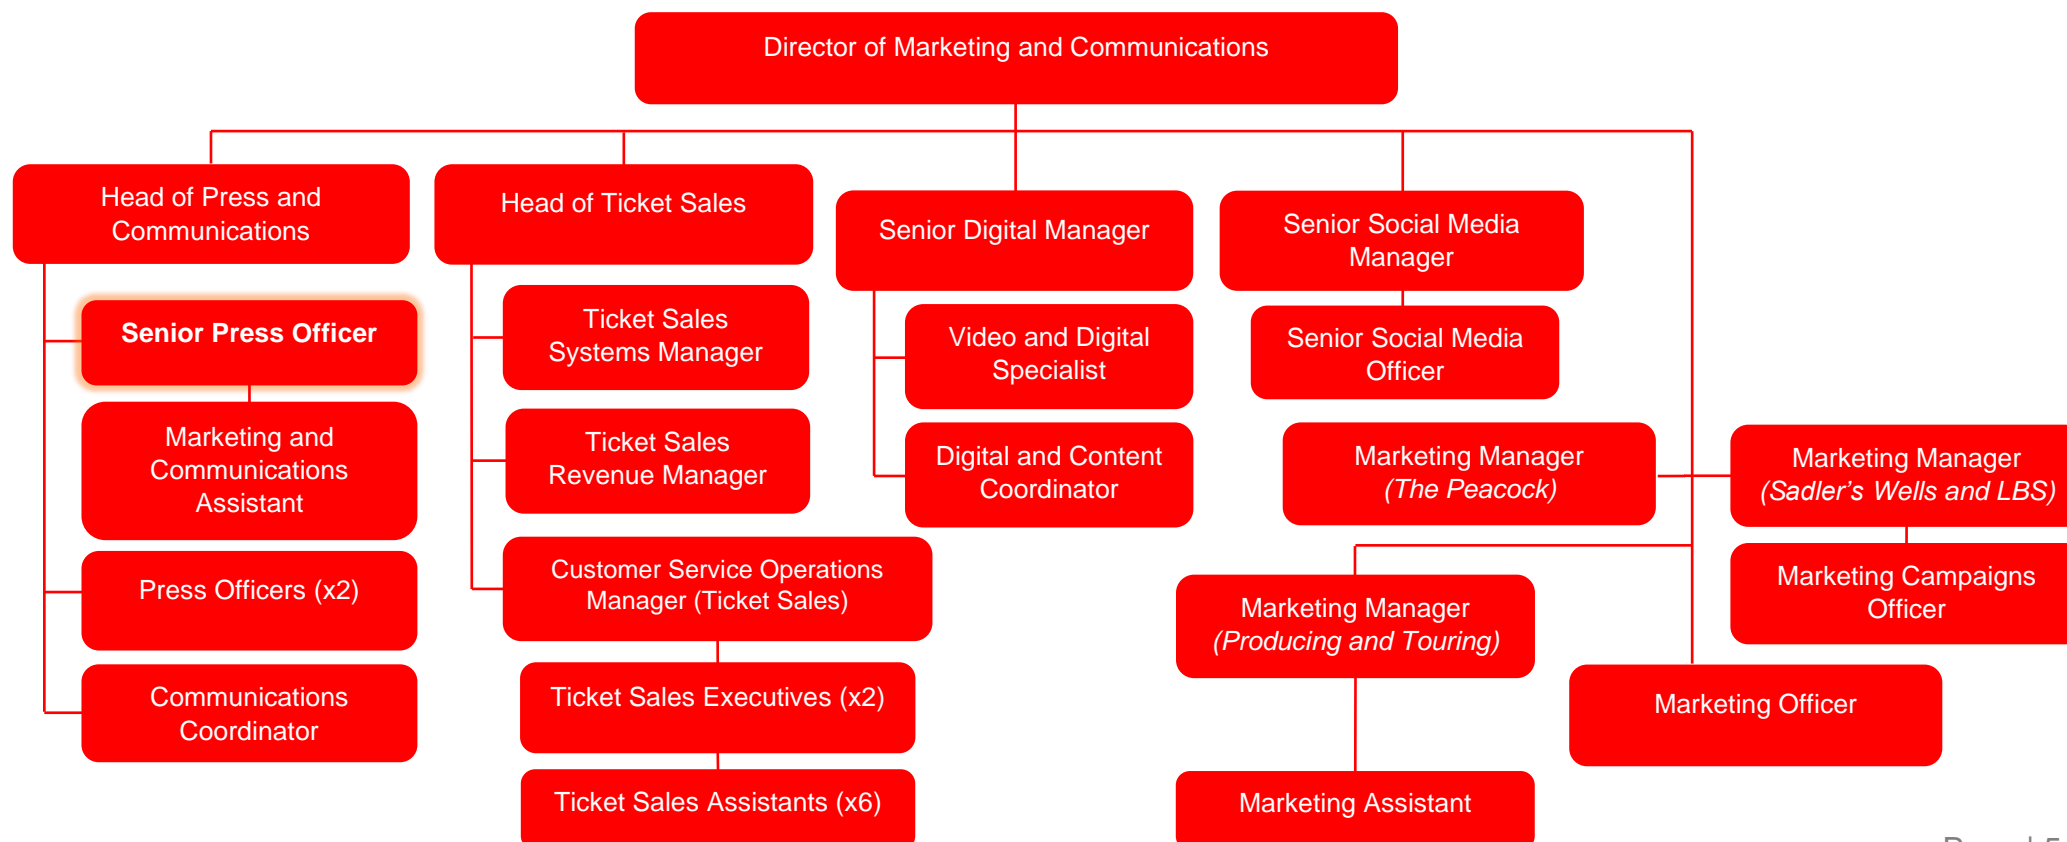

Sadler's Wells' new space will house a 550-seat mid-scale theatre, as well as facilities for a choreographic centre and a hip hop theatre academy, all planned to open by the end of 2023.

The Department

The Press and Communications team devises and implements press campaigns for in-house and touring productions at Sadler's Wells, advises visiting companies and, liaises with external agencies where applicable, to contribute to the work of the department and key communication objectives of the organisation.

The Press and Communications team sits within the wider Marketing and Communications department, led by the Director of Marketing and Communications, and works closely with the Marketing, Social Media, Ticket Sales and Digital teams.

The Marketing and Communications department:

The Role

Reporting to the Head of Press and Communications, the principal responsibility of the Senior Press Officer is to generate editorial coverage, across all platforms, for all of Sadler's Wells' activities.

You will play a dynamic role in all the campaigns and duties of a busy communications department. You will line manage the Marketing and Communications Assistant and deputise for the Head of Press and Communications.

What are my responsibilities?

Show Campaigns

- Devise and implement strategic, imaginative and effective press campaigns in support of productions and all areas of Sadler's Wells' activity across a wide range of media, including print, broadcast and digital
- Keep abreast of developments in the media and use awareness of the news agenda to maximise coverage potential
- Research, write and distribute press releases for all areas of Sadler's Wells activity
- Account manage assigned campaigns and/or internal department activity, liaising with internal stakeholders and external agencies where necessary
- Develop, build and maintain media contacts to identify and maximise opportunities, supporting the team's objectives of reaching new and diverse audiences
- Work closely with the marketing department and liaise with visiting companies about social media opportunities and strategies, taking the lead on or supporting arranging events for social media bloggers/vloggers where appropriate
- Work closely with visiting company press departments and with outside press representatives and agencies to support and maximise the effectiveness of their media activity
- Coordinate and attend press trips, photocalls, interviews, filming, press conferences and press nights and events as necessary
- Liaise with the Society of London Theatres to avoid clashes of press nights and photocalls
- Coordinate media nights or celebrity events for key productions where appropriate
- Commission production photographs for new work where appropriate

Leadership

- Proactively support, motivate and manage the Marketing and Communications Assistant, ensuring communication is efficient with regular touchpoints
- Support the Marketing and Communications Assistant's role in maintaining a press cuttings library, ensuring major features are circulated to relevant departments
- Deputise for the Head of Press and Communications during periods of absence

General

- Live, breathe and role model our organisational values of Excellence, Collaboration, Inclusion and Innovation, being aware of the influence and impact you can have as a leader at Sadler's Wells

- Lead on developing and delivering a press strategy for the work of the Learning and Engagement team, in collaboration with the Head of Press and Communications
- Liaise closely with other departments, such as Producing and Touring, Events, Development, and production sponsors where applicable, to proactively develop and implement specific campaigns in support of their objectives
- Work on other projects and activities within the department as required and play an active role in achieving the aims and targets of the organisation
- Control relevant budgets and ensure all financial and policy matters are managed in strict accordance with Sadler's Wells' policies and procedures
- Attend staff meetings, training sessions and other events which may take place outside normal working hours
- Undertake other duties as may be reasonably required
- At all times to carry out duties and responsibilities with regard to Sadler's Wells' Equality, Diversity and Inclusion and Health and Safety Policies. This may include providing assistance with evacuation procedures or building searches in the event of an emergency at any of Sadler's Wells' premise

THIS JOB DESCRIPTION IS A GUIDE TO THE NATURE OF THE WORK REQUIRED OF THIS POSITION. IT IS NEITHER WHOLLY COMPREHENSIVE NOR RESTRICTIVE AND DOES NOT FORM PART OF THE CONTRACT OF EMPLOYMENT.
